Flexi-Hex Air

Overview

Flexi-Hex Air, produced by and licensed to Seaman Paper, is a robust sleeve made from an expandable, honeycomb tissue paper. The innovative hexagonal cell structure not only provides incredible strength to protect fragile products in transit, it also creates a sleeve that is extremely flexible. In its natural state the sleeve is compact, however when fitted around an object, the sleeve expands open and takes on the form of the product within.

It's packaging that looks delicate but is simultaneously strong and offers a single packaging solution that is suitable for body and beauty products of all shapes and sizes.
